Introduction

Carbon accounting has become increasingly important due to environmental concerns, regulations, corporate responsibility, cost savings, and investor influence. Organizations recognize its role in mitigating climate change and ensuring sustainability. Our tailored Carbon Accounting and Verification Workshop, based on the ISO 14064 standard, enhances awareness of climate change and the need to develop and verify GHG inventories. It equips participants with the skills to quantify, monitor, report, and verify carbon emissions, helping them meet regulatory requirements and achieve sustainability goals.
